Conferences

OCTOBER 1983

19-20

The Political Science Department at Howard University is sponsoring a conference on "War and Peace - National Security and the Black Community," October 19-20, at the Blackburn University Center Ballroom. The conference features four plenary panels around key issues of U.S. military policy. Topics are: 1) "National Security and the Defense Build-up," 2) "Industrial Implications of the Defense Build-up," 3) "Socio-Political Implications of the Defense Build-up," and 4) "U.S. Military Policy in Africa and the Caribbean." Featured speakers include Ambassador Donald McHenry (the keynote speaker) Congressman Ronald Dellums, (providing the luncheon address) and special guest speaker, Dr. Randall Forseber, Director of the Institute of Defense and Disarmament Studies in Brookline, MA (on "Nuclear Freeze and the Third World"). For further information, contact: Dr. Ron Walters, Howard University, Washington, DC; 202/636-6720 X6722/6999.

19-23

The 68th Annual Conference of the Association for the Study of Afro-American Life and History will be held in Detroit, MI, October 19-23. The Convention site will be the Westin Hotel-Renaissance Center. The preliminary program suggest some of the most socially relevant and academically stimulating topics of research, scholarly reporting and theoretical debate in recent years. Some of these sessions are: On Black Electoral Politics, Case Studies in Race, Class and Color, the Status of the Black Family, the Political and Economic Experiences of Black Women, the Oral History of Blacks in Mississippi, etc. Also, the theoretical sessions on the interrelations between race and class as operative variables in the Black experience and the "continuing debate" between Nationalist and Marxist paradigms -- and their respective implications for social action may prove to be at the cutting edge of the production of ideas advanced in the convention. For more information contact: National Program Committee, Talmadge Anderson, Chair, Conference Registration Office, Westin Hotel Renaissance Center, Detroit, MI 48243. Phone toll free 1-800-228-3000.

21-22

The Black faculty, the Department of Education and the School of Social Service Administration of the University of Chicago are sponsoring a Symposium in Honor of Allison Davis, former John Dewey Distinguished Service Professor Emeritus in the Department of Education at the University of Chicago. The Symposium on Race, Class, Socialization and the Life Cycle will occur on October 21-22, 1983.

The symposium will seek to focus the energies of a group of scholars on the important problems which engaged Allison Davis during his life time. Panels take up such topics as "Race Relations in the 1980s," "Family, Socialization and Class," Social Class, Ethnicity and Learning," and "Human Development and the Life Cycle." For further information, write to: Allison Davis Symposium, Judd Hall, Room 328, 5835 S. Kimbark Avenue, Chicago, IL 60636; 312/962-1485.

CONFERENCES

NOV 20-22

The Black Studies Program at the College of Wooster is holding a Tenth Anniversary Conference on Black Studies. The key theme is "Black Studies in the Academy: A Celebration," November 20-22, 1983. Wooster College reaffirms its commitment to Black Studies, and this conference attempts to demonstrate how Black Studies has made contributions to both curriculum development and to institutional change. The symposium will highlight curricular and pedagogical innovations introduced within or strengthened by Black Studies. The main topics include: "Black Studies/Women's Studies: The Connections;" "Black Studies As A Force in Community Development," and "Black Studies: Extending the Boundaries of Traditional Research." For further information contact: Yvonne C. Williams, Director of Black Studies, The College of Wooster, Wooster, OH 44691.

DEC 19-22

The Afro-American Religious History Group of The American Academy of Religion will sponsor several sessions on Black Religion at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Religion, December 19-22, 1983 in Dallas, Texas.

Proposed session topics include "Major Figures and Themes in Black Religious Thought," "Black Participation in Non-Mainline Black Religious Tradition," "Martin Luther King, Jr.," and "Black Religion and the Civil Rights Movement." For further information contact: James M. Washington, Union Theological Seminary, 99 Claremont Avenue, New York, NY 10027; 212/662/7100.

FEB 29-
MAR 3

The Eighth Annual Conference of the National Council for Black Studies will be held in Charlotte, North Carolina at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. While the papers and presentations will focus on the theme, Academic Excellence and Social Responsibility: Black Leadership in Politics and Education," the major social interaction will center around the theme of "Homecoming for NCBS" which has its base built on the foundation of an NCBS "parent" chapter, the North Carolina Conference for Black Studies founded by Dr. Bertha Maxwell in 1975. Dr. Maxwell played a leading role in the formation of NCCBS as a vehicle to facilitate the organization of Afro-American Studies on the campus and in the community. During the late seventies, NCCBS had strong community-oriented units in Charlotte (at UNC), Asheville (UNC-Asheville), Chapel Hill (UNC-CH), Fayetteville (Fayetteville State University, Durham (North Carolina Central University and Duke University), Raleigh (St. Augustine's College) and as far east as Rocky Mount, North Carolina. NCCBS has retained a strong presence among high school teachers, culture workers and professionals. The conference theme promises to yield relevant and sharp debate of central issues facing Black people and Black Studies both inside and outside the formal sessions. For more information, contact: Dr. Bertha Maxwell Afro-American Studies, UNCC, Slater Mag 203, Charlotte, NC 28223; 707/597-2371.

MAR 8-10

The "Call for Papers" has been issued for the 11th Annual National Conference on the Black Family in America. This years conference will be held at the University of Louisville (KY) and the theme is "Politics in the Black Community." The focus is public policy and the organization for change in Black family and institutional life. Conference presenters are required to submit a 300-500 word abstract by December 16, 1983. The conference coordinator is Dr. Joseph H. MacMillian, Assistant Vice President for Minority Affairs, University of Louisville, Louisville, KY 40292; 502/588-6678.

APR 1-8

The Third International Black and Radical Book Fair and Symposium Acton Town Hall (London, West 3 London) April 1-8, 1984. Theme is "1984 and After." This Book fair originated in the wake of the GreatBrixton Insurrection. It is fast becoming a major political and intellectual event in England, and it is making an impact on the international level as well. AUG 1984

The Fourth Congress of Black Culture in the Americas is to be held in Quito, Ecuador. The theme for this international gathering of scholars and cultural workers is on Black Women in the Americas. This is the first international conference on this topic. While all aspects of this congress are not completed, the early advance announcements identifies four objectives. They are to assess the following relationships: (a) Black women and mostizaje (the ideology of racial mixing); (b) the Black woman in history; (c) the Black woman in society (family); and (4) the Black woman in the arts. An Ecuadoran executive committee is being formed and coordinated by Dr. Manuel Zapata Olivella, a noted folklorist and Columbian physican. The Afro-Scholar will publish definitive data as soon as it is available.

From the editor . . .

Black Studies is developing rapidly into a viable intellectual activity. It has been developing as an academic field and as an intellectual arm of the Black liberation movement. This is the living tradition of W.E.B. DuBois, Paul Robeson, Ida B. Wells, and Langston Hughes. It is quite significant that a national consensus has developed around the dual purpose of Black Studies, Academic Excellence and Social Responsibility.

The AFRO-SCHOLAR NEWSLETTER is designed to summarize developments relevant to Black Studies on a national and international level. It will be published quarterly (deadlines for submission are November 15th, January 15th, and March 15th). All aspects of Black Studies will be covered within the space limitations. The Afro-Scholar Newsletter intends to be the critical source of information on Black Studies, and a project to develop a major professional/political organization for Black intellectuals, artists, and friends.

The AFRO-SCHOLAR NEWSLETTER is a result of a need not being met by existing organizations. A great deal is happening, but there is no national clearinghouse, no central location for news about Black Studies. Now we have a solution to this problem. Send your information to the Afro-Scholar and 5,000 people all over the world will know about it, and they will be able to tell over 1/2 million students and community activists near all major educational institutions. Further, we are committed to facilitating consistent dialogue between Black studies academics and Black liberation movement activists.

We are your drum, your voice. Together, we can sing a great song.

COVER PHOTO: During the 1983-84 academic year the Afro-American Studies and Research Program is sponsoring a year long exhibition - "BLACK PHOTOGRAPHERS RETROSPECTIVE: 1960 to 1980", to contrast the development of Black photography over the past two decades. The work of four Black Chicago photographers will be on exhibit:

Robert Sengstacke, Jr.	November 1 thru November 30, 1983
Ibn Sharrieff	December 5, 1983 thru January 31, 1984
Fundi (Billy Abernathy)	February 6 thru March 30, 1984
Roy Lewis	April 3 thru May 31, 1984

The cover photograph entitled "Flight" was taken in Chicago by Fundi (Billy Abernathy).
